were read, and, after being amended by changing the limits from 300 to 200 feet, the radius in which applicants for saloon licenses would have to receive the consent of two-thirds of the residents before a iccuse would be issued, were approved. On motion of Chief Cuddy the matter of

On motion of Chief Cuddy the matter of the revocation of certain saloon licenses was taken up, and R. O. C. Benjamin, attorney for Myers, at 23 Los Angeles street, asked that his client be allowed another chance. The Chief at once stated that he had personally investigated the place Tuesday night and found that a craps game and faro game were in full operation, and that the place was fitted up with electric bells and other precautions for keeping out the police. He therefore moved that no further license be issued, which was carried unanimously.

Mayor Workman announced that W. C. Roberts and J. M. Meshvin had been added to the police force, and William C. Clayton and Thomas Belford appointed jallers.

Roberts and J. M. Methvin had been added to the police force, and William C. Clayton and Thomas Belford appointed jallers.

On motion of Mayor Workman, the action of Chief Cuddy in having the City Prison put in a presentable condition was indorsed and approved, and the thanks of the board tendered him.

The question of uniforms for the force was then taken up, and, on motion, the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for furnishing them, the bids to be in by Saturday. The uniforms are to be of first quality Pioneer Woolen Mills cloth, the same as that used by the department at San Francisco. The Chief stated that he had telegraphed for hats for the force, which would be here in a short time.

Several small bills were presented and ordered paid.

The Question of a branch police station for East Los Angeles was called up, and, on motion, referred to the Chief for an estimate of its probable cost, and to report on the best location.

The Chief of Police was instructed to get bids for a patrol wagon at once.

Mayor Workman suggested that the matter of the chief of detectives should be settled at once, but Chief Cuddy said there was no necessity for hurrying matters, and asked that it be postponed. After some discussion, in order to bring the matter be fore the board, Mr. Humptreys moved that Emil Harris be appointed chief of detectives at a salary of $150 per month.

Mayor Workman said that Harris wanted $200 per month, but he had talked to T. E. Rowan, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, upon the matter and thought the board would pay the other $50.

Chief Cuddy said there was no immediate necessity for the officer. He had four men detailed, who were doing excelent work, and he thought the board should not be in a hurry. He had not been consulted about the matter, and, as he would have considerable to do with the officer, he thought this couriesy should be extended him. He was not prepared to say that Harris was not a good man, but he wanted time to test the present arrangement. He thought the police should have a chance to show what they could do.

After some further discussion the matter went over and the board adjourned.

bie Harry Johnston, who gained quite a reputation as a detective of more than ordinary ability in the Gormlee rape case, and Alfredo Arguello, who have run in a great many tramps and vags of late, made up their minds to do some good work, if possible, around the Southern Pacific depot. They disguised themselves, mounted a couple of Arguello's horses, and started for the depot. When they reached that place they were made glad when they noticed a number of boxcars standing on the side-tracks. Now, the boxcar is the tramp's palace, and the officers were confident that they would greatly swell the County Jail dining-room list. They bounded off their thouses and hitched the animals in front of a well-known Democratic aloon. The anbitious minions of the law dived into the first boxcar and went through it like a Kansas cyclone, but strange to say there was not a single tramp in the car. The tramp, hunters rushed from one car to another, but luck was against them. It was not a songle tramp in the car. The tramp, hunters rushed from one car to another, but luck was against them. It was not as good night for tramps, and the cars were cound to be as empty as the day they were made. The officers slowly returned to while re they had left their horses, when they had left their horses, when they dismounted, and as soon as the Dexcars were entered the men separated. One of them walked up to Johnston's horse, and called to his companion, asking him if he could take the forces when they dismounted, and as soon as the Dexcars were entered the men separated. The Moore case of the People vs. Laura Moore was continued before Judge Cheney. As usual, the courtroom was filled with a crowd of idlers; in fact, not only were all the seats eccupied, but the alsies were also crowded with people, who appear to have enjoyed the indecencies divulged during the trial as a special treat its and the control of the cont awaiting to see the outcome of a trial task awaiting to see the outcome of a trial task has attracted so much attention. At 6:10 the jury were recalled into court, and asked by the Court if there was any chance of their agreeing. The answer was that "it was very improbable that any verdict could be agreed upon." Acting on orders from the court, Deputy Sheriff Sanchez again took them in charge, and until 7:30 they remained locked up, but all to no purpose, and, seeing that it was impossible for them to agree, Judge Cheney discharged them.

On coming into court the first time they stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction, and when discharged not one vote viction, and when discharged not one vote when the present the prese

The Republicans of the Union Will Elect the Next

N FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.-[Special. n. John F. Swift has published the owing address to the Republicans

the State:

To the Republicans of California: The me has arrived for Republicans to set out organizing for the coming Presintial election. Having been deated, as your candidate for Governor, the last State election, and the Demits making this result the ground a claim that the State is Demontic, or at least doubtful, I deem it duty to address you thus early in campaign, lest my silence should construed as an acquiescence in the im, and to a want of faith in the lumph of our candidates and principal at the election next November. I spute the claim most decidedly. This is not a Democratic State, nor as it so in 1886, except as the result a conjunction of factitious incints that ought not to have occurred and not in the least likely to come again. That the defeat of a ston of our ticket in 1886 was due preventable causes, only adds to chagrin of Republicans at such a unit.

the most important of these was the dental, and, I trust, temporary, urson of some 6000 votes, the great of which were cast by good and ligent Republicans, who turned is into what was known as the crican party. I and a portion of colleagues on the ticket, lost these Republican votes, and the loss ught me (if the count in San Franowas an honest one) some 600 votes and my opponent, and he was deed elected, and it defeated some of colleagues, quite as good men and ood Americans as those elected.

Is my oppinion that these votes will se with us next November. They are should have been away from us, never would have been but for a understanding of facts.

Three weeks before the meeting of the Fresne convention, without warn-ing, I was surprised by finding in the columns of the San Francisco Argo-naut an editorial article presenting my name as a candidate for Governor at the head of a ticket which purported to be an American ticket upon a platform the head of a ticket which purported to be an American ticket, upon a platform expressing the well-known views of that journal, not emanating from the Fresno party of Mr. Wigginton and his colleagues, but selected by twelve gentlemen (names not given), friends of The Argonaut, which article assumed to speak authoritatively as to the opinions of the candidates so nominated.

On the same ticket were placed a portion of my Republican co-nominees, along with a part of the Democratic candidates. Several of my associates were not so nominated.

The article declared substantially that these candidates "represented the idea of Americans of native birth being first entitled to enjoy the offices of the country," to the exclusion of citizens by adoption.

It further proceeded to declare (I quote literally)—

"That a person born abroad, who came to the country young, who does not acknowly without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican may for without ceasing to be a Republican may or of—indeed, that the beat Republican may or of—indeed, that is good recognized Republican doctrine.

But to place the matter beyond any sort of question, in the identical issue of this view. The following is a copy:

September 18, 1886.

On reading these two articles, I came to the conclusion that, both upon principle, and expediency, it was a duty I owed to myself, to the party, and to the rest of the ticket, to repudiate this sectarian nomination and its platform. I immediately prepared and sent off for publication, a letter which appeared in the San Francisco Evening Bulletin the same evening declining the honor.

In giving my reasons for repudiating the nomination of the San Francisco Argonaut, I said, among other things, in the same direction as follows, viz.:

"I believe that the policy adopted in the early days of the Republic, of extending the right of citizenship to all Europeans, in order to encourage their coming hither, was wise policy, and I would not change it if I had the power.

"I believe that Roman Catholics and Jeve are as loyal to republican institutions as "I believe that Roman Catholics and Jews are as loyal to republican institutions as Protestant Christians, or people of any other faith."—|San Francisco Chronicle, September 19, 1886. If I had said less than this, or believed less, I should have had no right to ask, or to expect the votes of the at least 15,000 Catholics, Hebrews, and naturalized citizens who habitually vote with our party, who belong to it as vote with our party, who belong to it as part of its regular force, and whose votes are necessary to its success at any election in this State.

Indeed, as an honest man I had no right to accept their votes if I felt toward them as The Argonaut, in its article nominating me, substantially declared that I did feel.

breasts of the gentlest and most humane of men. "

To do this is distinctly to do an injury to the country under pretense of benefiting it.

Laws have already been passed, and are now in force, intended to restrict the coming of criminals, paupers and other undesirable people.

This was accomplished, as are most good political measures, by the Republican party, before the American party, of California was thought of. When of California was thought of. When other legislation is needed in the same direction, there is no doubt that it will be promoted by the same influences, and without stirring up strife between neighbors, or setting citizen against citizen.

At any rate, it will hardly be disputed that if for any reason we should lose that vote, we could not hope to carry any election at which such a result should occur.

It is true that we have no right to sacrifice any principle in order to hold this vote, but we have the right, and it is our duty, to recognize their just rights as citizens and as members of the party in good standing along with the others.

It is our duty, when their already-acquired rights are attacked or called in question, that we disconnect ourselves as a party from such attack, and pledge them our support in what the Constitution and the laws have accorded to them. This is not demagogy, but simple justice.

to be used for such a purpose, and declined in terms that were intended to be firm yet respectful to accept the nomination.

I will briefly summarize the facts, showing how Republicans were misled and a portion of our ticket defeated.

Several months previous to the election of 1886 a meeting was held at Fresno City to form an American party. The Hon. P. D. Wigginton, a gentleman of decided prominence in the State, a Democrat of recognized standing, and ex-member of Congress, was days after the Fresno convention had ing, and ex-member of Congress, was the leader and prime mover.

A convention was called, to be held on the 2d day of October, 1886, at Fresno City, to nominate an American State ticket.

Three weeks before the meeting of the Fresno convention, without warning, I was surprised by finding in the columns of the San Francisco Argonaut an editorial article presenting my name as a candidate for Governor at the head of a ticket which purported to stalwart Republican may not sincerely favor without ceasing to be a Republican, and much that the best Republicans are strongly in favor of—indeed, that is good recognized Republican doctrine against the Roman Catholics, the Jews, or upon any religious or sectarian question whatever. There was no reference to the propriety or the impropriety of naturalized citizens holding or enjoying "the offices of the country," or suggesting that native born Americans should be preferred to them for that or any political purpose.

born Americans should be preferred to them for that or any political purpose. In a word it was as unlike The Argonaut platform upon which I had been nominated as any two declarations of principles could well be.

It is no wonder that such Republicans as think the time is near or at hand for restricting general immigration should hesitate to support a candidate who had such hostile views on the subject as were thus unjustly and falsely attributed to me.

But this is not written to put anybody in the wrong or myself in the right.

in the wrong or myself in the right. The matter has passed into history, and the personal part of it is of no further consequence. I wish that the truth be known, not for my own bene-fit, but for the benefit of the Republi-can party, in order to show that there is no just cause for any division in their ranks; in order to show the American party of last year that they properly belong to the old party, and not elsewhere, and not to defend my own action, which, having had the approval of my own judgment and con science at the time, has no need of any defense.

But if I might be allowed to say a word in that behalf, it would be that what I did was necessary to the position of the party in the future, to show that it leaves every citizen the right to his own religious convictions, and that Republican Catholics, Republican Jews and Republican adopted citizens are not obliged to leave the Republican party in order to defend the rights and privileges the Constitution and laws of the land have guaranteed to them.

Viewing it in the mere light of immediate expediency, still it seems to cience at the time, has no need of any mediate expediency, still it seems to me that I took the only course justifi-able after the incident once became inevitable.

Remember that Mr. Wigginton had Fresno convention?

It seems to me reasonable that Mr. Wigginton would naturally hold his forces in hand so as to utilize them for his own advancement, and, failing in that, then for the benefit of those most nearly to his own way of thinking.
That, admitting that it was no part of his scheme to become the nominee of his own convention, it was always certain that the nomination would be used for the advantage of his old associates in the Democratic party rather ciates in the Democratic party rather than to that of his opponents, the Republicans, and that it would in the nend be turned to the benefit of Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Hearst, as it finally was; and that, had I accepted The Argonaut's nomination, I should have lost the enemies of that journal without gaining its friends, a combination.

out gaining its friends, a combination of circumstances under which it is hardly likely that any candidate could have been elected in California at that time. Instead of 600, as The Argonaut candidate, under these conditions I must have been beaten 6000 at east.
Although I made no suggestion or Atthough I made no suggestion or request to that effect, I thought in 1886, and think still, that all the Republican nominess who were named by The Argonaut as its candidates should have declined the honor. Had they done so, the entire Republican ticket would have been elected instead of only a part. By remaining on both tickets part. By remaining on both tickets they contributed to the state of doubt they contributed to the state of doubt and confusion that was so artfully worked up in the interest of Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Hearst, and which ended by losing a portion of the Republican ticket—6000 good Republican votes, the most of them through this very confusion and misapprehension. I cannot believe that the Republican candidates who accepted The Argonaut nomination entertained the opinions with respect to naturalized citizens, Catholics and other religionists, of the journal that nominated them. Governor, undertook to place me in a position where my election would be made to appear a special vindication and triumph for that journal in the course it has so long marked out for itself in attacking Catholics, Hebrews and naturalized citizens, and to brand the Republican party, through its can didate, with the stamp of these opinions, I conceived it to be my duty to refuse to be placed in such a position, or to be used for such a purpose, and declined in terms that were intended to be firm yet respectful to accept the name of the Republican party, through its can the Republican party to point on the American party, "as every leader and misapprenension. I cannot believe that the Republican candidates who accepted The Argonaut nomination on entertained the candidates who accepted The Argonaut nomination opinions with respect to naturalized citizens, Catholics and other religionists, of the journal that nominated them. And if they did, the Republican party, that had first nominated them, did not, and these gentlemen had not "repudiated the principles of the American party," as every leader and manager of that organization knew fulls well. I never laid eyes upon its platform till more than a week after Mr. Wigginton had been nominated. I had never declined to allow my name to be printed at the head of its ticket. the American party. It was a wrong to the Republican party, and however upright may have been the motive, was practically an act of bad faith, if not to all on the Republican ticket, cer-tainly to all who did not get both nominations (as several did not).

This seems to me to be too manifest for discussion. It was not only bad morals, but bad practical politics, and was one of the active and controlling causes that led to the defeat of part of the ticket and the jeopardy of the whole. Of course, any of them who hold that a naturalized citizen should not have an office as long as one of native birth can be found to take it, and that a Catholic, no matter how upright, honorable and patriotic, cannot be trusted uplers be repudiated a gardinal trust unless he repudiates a cardinal tenet of his faith and refuses to go to mass, of his faith and refuses to go to mass, was justified in accepting the nomination; but I doubt if any had such opinion. If any do, it is not too late to speak even now.

For my part, I am proud to be able to say that, as the Republican candidate, I upheld its highest principles, of the broadest toleration to all men in their religious conjugues. their religious opinions, and that the party has nothing to explain or apolo-gize for in the coming campaign for

In conclusion, I ask Republicans to any aside all dissensions and disagreements for the common good, and come together with the spirit of the glorious past, and victory is sure to result.

Their chief claim to office seems to be that in the three years they have held power they have not paid the rebel debt; renewed the rebellion; nor dissolved the Union.

Apparently it is such a surprise to nor, nor ansolved the Union.

Apparently it is such a surprise to the party that they have done none of these things, that until lately they seemed likely to go into the coming campaign upon the record of that ast tonishing fact alone.

But the chief of the party has boldly and frankly resolved otherwise, and has tendered an issue that Republicans willingly accept.

I will not say in terms that President Cleveland is a free trader, for it is neither just nor courteous to call a man or a party by a name that he or it denies and repudiates, but he certainly attacks the protective system. That high tariff, to which revenue is incidental, and protection of home re-

In such a contest our State has a

ing. In such a contest our State has a peculiar interest.

If the Republican party fails to carry the election, the farmers and fruit-growers, the vineyardists and wool-producers and lumbering men of California must divide profits with their rivals of Europe, Canada and Austra-lia, or find some occupation that does not interfere with the interests of their competitors in those countries, for the Californian is not more highly thought of in the average Democratic Congress than are non-resident aliens.

High walls shut in the forbidden city; a most surrounds them; and then there are the distonic value, tiles the most surrounds them; and then there are the glistening yellow tiles, the roofs built by the old Mongols in imitation of their tents. Then there is the green hill, with its trees and the palace roof climbing up it. The entrances are of deep blue, bright green, golden-dragoned, with here and there a touch of vermillion. The sky is blue above, the sun shines, and there in the roadway, sits a child.

This little incident may perhaps illustrate the Chinese State of mind: This little incident may pernaps illustrate the Chinese State of mind: The Chinese minister lately accredited to an Europeon court was taking leave of a very eminent Englishman, and, pitying him that his wife had gone to England for the education of their children said: "You must be very lonely. But, of course, you have a number two." "I tried to explain to him," said the Englishman, "that that was quite out of the question. My wife would be in a great rage if I took a second wife, and my government would punish me severely." The Chinese diplomatist was astonished, but after a pause he said: "You Europeans have so much more intercourse with China now that we may hope you will soon become sufficiently civilized to act as we do." In this spirit the Chinese diplomatist started for Europe, and in this spirit he will probably return.

John F. Swift's Address-The First Shot

We publish this morning a masterly and convincing address, issued by the late Republican candidate for Governor, John F. Swift, to the Repubcareful perusal, not only by Republicans, but by all good citizens of California who have at heart the welfare of their State and country.

Mr. Swift starts out by showing that this is not a Democratic State, but that the defeat of a portion of the ticket in 1886 was due to a misapprehension of facts on the part of many Republican voters, who were led to believe that they could vote an outside ticket without influencing the final results, it being represented to them that there were as many Democrats as Republicans in the movement, whereas, as a fact, there were probably not ever 500 ticket. The truth is emphasized that the Republican is the only true American party. An outline is given of the writer's views on the immigration and naturalization laws; the treachery and deceitfulness of the Argonautic Pixley is exposed, and the true facts in regard to Mr. Swift's asserted connection with the American party clearly stated. He concludes with a few telling reflections on those Republican candidate who permitted their names to be used on the American ticket, and a prophecy that nothing can prevent California from giving a Republican majority of from 12,000 to 15,000 in November

In that portion of his address which he shows the futility and need-lessness of the American party, Mr. Swift's a guments are particularly convincir and lucid. He strongly and truthtully states the case in these words:

words:

"The truth is, that the Republican is the only true American party. It is the only party with genuine national aspirations, working up to true national ends, that exists in American politics.

"But for the Republican party, the most powerful part of the Democratic party, then and now, would long ago have torn the American Nation and the American name into infinite fragments, leaving nothing worth contending for.

"There is neither need nor place for any other American party than this of ours, and it will, I am sure, welcome back those

The opportunity for that inspection has been given, and, in place of a deficit in the balance, there was, if we remember, a surplus of three cents over what the books called for. As Mr. Swift points out, the Democrats based their chief claim to office, previous to the issuance of the President's recent message, not on the ground of worthy reforms accomplished, but on the fact that they had the next steamer.

Raw sugar declined in price today to 5½ cents per pound, and the cause of the reduction is said to be the surplus that is expected on the coast during the coming year. Much sugar is being imported from Manila and Central America to compete with the Hawsiian trade. It is thought the refineries in this city will have a surplus of 50,000 to 60,000 tons, which will probably be sent to New York in a raw state.

A prominent sugar dealer said today: be sent to New York in a raw stake.

A prominent sugar dealer said today:
"The Hawalian crop is estimated to be at least 125,000 tons, while the importations from other sources will amount to 35,000 tons, making the total receipts 169,000 tons. The consumption of the whole Pacific Const is but 75,000 tons, while 25,000 tons of refined sugars are shipped annually to points as far East as the Missouri River. This will leave a surplus of 60,000 tons, for the year, all of which, no doubt, will be shipped around the horn to New York. It Will Protect Fish and Game and Take In Tourists.

He referred to the difficulties encountered in building the canal, which had to be cut in places through solid rock and tunnelled under hills, and drew a bright picture of the future of Merced. A poem by E. Jacuman was read by William Conny.

Gov. Waterman made a brief at dress, in the course of which he said that water from the lake would be furnished irrigators at $10 per acre.

Marcus D. Boruck, Senator Goucher of Fresno, Assemblyman Wright of Stanish B. Marks of Fresno, J. O. Blackburn and S. F. McSwain also made remarks.

Then Charles Crocker, in company with Maj. Truman, H. S. Crocker. W. H. Crocker, J. F. Strowbridge and others of the railroad company and Cony Friedlander went to the gates of the reservoir, a quarter of a mile away and, at a signal given by a cannon, at 1:30 o'clock, presed the lever that raised the three floodgates; a sound of rushing waters was heard and cheers went up for Crocker and Huffman. As the torrent came pouring down into the basin Miss Carrie Huffman spoke a few verses and christened the reservoir "Ye semite Lake."

Miss Russie Ward unveiled the tablet over the portal of the tower by drawing back the stars and stripes draped over it. It bore the following inscription: "This tablet is inscribed by the citizens of Merced to commemorate the opening of a great irrigating canal, and bears testiniony to their appreciation of the labors of its promotera-Charles Crocker and C. H. Huffman, jeneers of California." Yosemite Lake was commenced February, 1883, and completed in 1887. After this everybody went to the plain below and partook of a lunch provided by the people.

The canal has cost about $1,750,000. It is 27 miles long, and has been five years in building. It will irrigate half a million acres of the San Joaquin Valley. The reservoir in which the water is stored contains 640 acres.

A CRANK CALLS ON CLEVELAND.

The police arrested and locked up, tonight, Abraham Isaacs, a Russian Jew from New York, who came here to collect money which he imagined President Cleveland defranded him out of. Isaacs is evidently a crank. He said $4000 was due him from the Government, and the President had retained it for his own use. He intended going to the White House with a big buildog and demand that the President settle up accounts.

THE ANDERSON TELEGRAPH BILL.

New York, Feb. 1.—"The law allowed the Pacific railroad companies to take contracts with the telegraph companies, and, of course, they did it. That is all I know about it," was the answer C. P. Huntington gave today when the Anderson bill was brought to his attention.

Dr. Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, said: "The bill affects us very little, because we have our own wires. The Anderson bill undertakes to pass upon the judicial question as to whether the railroads had a right to make contracts with telegraph companies. The courts have already decided they had such a right. The question is a matter of much more importance to the railroad companies than to us. We have our own lines there, and the only damage it would do us would be to put us to the expense of a few more offices on the line of the route, but, as we should get all the receipts, instead of giving the railroads one-half, as now, our increased expense would be more than met by the increased revenue."

The minority of the House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads today flied the minority report on Anderson's bill to require the Pacific railroad companies to afford equal facilities to all telegraph companies in the transmission of telegraph with the purpose of the majority, to prevent any discrimination by subsidized land-grant roads, it believes the legislation proposed would not be wise if it were competent, and that the bill, with its amendments, is unconstitutional, as seeking to interfere with the vested rights of the Western Union Company. The company has built additional lines for the railroads, and gives the use of its lines and employés for railroad business, and in the opinion of the minority there is no more right or power to amend such contracts by legislation than to legislate the title of a granger's farm into a base-ball ground without the farmer's consent.

A STHANGE CASE.

A City of 7000 Souls Should Be Recognized.

There is a very strong sentiment in East Los Angeles against saloons. It is true that there are quite a number engaged in the liquor business over the river, but the people think they have enough to supply their immediate wants, so when Oelkers & Wall a few weeks ago put in application to the Pollec Commissioners for a license to open a saloon at No. 504 Downey avenue, they thought it time to call a halt, and a lengthy petition was presented to the board protesting against granting the desired

"For heaven's sake, man, give me nickels instead of those dimes, won't you?" The wall was a plaintive one, and the look of anxious woe that careened mournfully over the youthful speaker's face would almost have been sufficient to melt the heart of a baggage-smasher or a Pullman-car porter. When it was turned with all its fusing power on the countenance of the young man who does business at the Union-depot news stand it broke him up com-

"Oh, you're another victim of the 10-cent racket, are you?" he said, sympa-thetically, as he shoved the four dimes which he had laid on the counter in change back into the drawer and handed out instead a quarter and three nickels. The young man's face beamed with joy. "I would have been busted if you hadn't done that," he exclaimed, as he pocketed his change and walked away.

"What was the matter with an astonished reporter inquired.
"Matter? Oh, he's promised somebody, his sister, or his mother, or probably his sweetheart, to save every dime body, his sister, or his mother, or probably his sweetheart, to save every dime that comes into his possession," kindly explained the news man.

"You never heard of that racket before?" he continued inquiringly. "Well, that's funny. Don't you know that the practice of never spending a dime is growing so fast that it threatens to cause an actual scarcity of the coin. A number of young men I know are doing it from choice. They take all the dimes you offer them, and religiously hide them away in a side pocket, from which they transfer them to a safe or little box that is tightly locked. But the majority of the boys do it because in a weak moment they are tempted to pledge themselves to try the scheme for six months or a year. It is the hardest thing in the world to induce that class of youthful savers to accept a dime in change. In the first place they won't take the change in their hands. They make you lay it down on the counter. Then, if there is a dime among it, they ask to have it changed. They daren't touch it, you see, else they would have to keep it. I'll guarantee that citizen who has just left here hasn't had a dime in his pocket for a month.

"But the boys who do save up dimes who has just left here hasn't had a dime in his pocket for a month.

"But the boys who do save up dimes in earnest find it a mighty rapid way of laying up wealth. I have a friend who started the scheme six months ago. He is a clerk, getting a small salary, and he had already declared be couldn't possibly save anothing. salary, and he had already declared he couldn't possibly save anything. Last week, when he opened his little box, he found he had accumulated a trifle over $48. There were 480 dimes, and he had never missed one of them. It takes a lot of watching at first, though, I tell you. A couple of days ago a business man rushed up here, on his way to the train, and picked up the ago a business man rushed up here, on his way to the train, and picked up the evening papers, throwing down a dime in payment. I was about to put it in the drawer, when he grabbed it and shoved it down in his vest pocket as though it were sacred to the memory of his 'mother-in-law or his great aunt though it were sacred to the memory of his 'mother-in-law or his great aunt. Then he skirmished through his pockets for change. He had four dimes, but that was everything he had smaller than a $5 bill. He was game, though, and rather than let one of those dimes go he let me change the bill. Another poor fellow who runs a ribbon counter down street has to deny himself papers and luxuries all this week because, when he opened his salary envelope last Saturday, he found $4.50 of his weekly stipend in dimes. It almost broke his heart, but he stuck to his pledge and dropped the $4.50 in his little box.

"Some people who can't afford to save dimes save nickles and pennies, and others who are more prosperous put away all their quarters or half dolars. It's a great scheme, and it is spreading all over the country. If the mint don't soon turn out a few trainloads of small coins there won't be any in circulation."

SOUTH CUCAMONGA, CAL.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY

Forty Miles East From Los Angeles

Its location is one of the most charming

GREAT CUCAMONGA VALLEY, GREAT CUCAMONGA VALLEY, Stuated on the gently sloping plain, at an altitude of 565 feet above sea level, and within full view of the grandly towering peaks of the maguificent Slerra Madre range. Old Baldy, with his superb height of 9000 feet and heary, snow-crowned tops, and Cucamongs, with its grand height of 5000 feet, together look down in majesty on the lovely valley at their feet, where, in most charming contrast, may be seen, far as the eye can roam, orchards of orange, lemon, lime and olive, and vineyards laden with semi-tropical fruits, and fields clad with verdure and laden with perfume.

About three miles to the west may be seen

About three miles to the west may be seen the flourishing town and colony of Ontario to the northwest, about the same distance the old, world-renowned Cucamonga vine-yard; to the north, the fine new town of North Cucamonga: to the northeast is the village of Etiwanda, and to the southeast, Riverside Colton and San Bernardino, and immediately to the southwest is the rich and prolific Chin-ranch, South Cucamonga being the great cen largely in distance from the sea coast, altitude of surface, relation to mountains, and gen-eral topograpy and contour. These conditions are perhaps as meanly perfect in Cucamongs from fog-laden sea breezes, while the atmosphere is so pure, dry and exhilerating that those suffering from asthmatic and pulmonary troubles find it most invigorating and

The water supply is inexhaustible, and, being from never-failing meuntain springs, is sheekutely pire. It is conducted in iron pipes, is which are already laid throughout the streets of the terms.

The soil is superior and rich sedimentary The soil is superior and rich sedimentary depoit, of extraordinary depth, is loses and easily worked, and retains moisture for a great length of time, requiring very little irrigation. Those who are thoroughly competent to judge have pronounced. Gueamongs, taking soil and climate together, to be far superior to the famous Duarte and Riverside orange belt for raising oranges, lemons, etc., while it is entirely free from scale. The company also offers lands in 10, 20 and 40-acre tracts, with water, adjoining the town site of South Cucamonga.

South Cucamonga.

No new town in Southern California has brighter prospects for becoming a railroad center than South Cucamonga. Aiready it has two great continental lines, the Southern Pacific forming the boundary line to the South, the Atchison, Topeka and Sants Fe a short distance to the North, with two projected lines—one to Riverside and another to Sait Lake City.

To secure the comfort of visitors, the fine

tain trails, the grandly beautiful cañon and irresistably charming scenery of mountain, gien and valley, will be found vastly conducive to health and happpi SOUTH CUCAMONG is no new town in the midst of an unpepulated district, but is right in the center of the finest improved portion of the Great Cuca-monga Valley, and is bound to became a busiess center.

Owing to its great richness the soil produces the finest oranges and lemons grown in the State, peaches, apples, pears, figs, almonds and walnuts, and the finest of wine and raisingrapes. As proof of the great fer-tility of this section—the old Cucamonga vineyard (one of the oldest and finest in the vineyard (one of the oldest and finest in the State); adjoining Cucamonga, may be mentioned. The wines produced there having a world-renowned celebrity.

Freight received at South Cucamonga depot, for the year 1887, amounts to the enormous sum of 5,322,375 pounds; shipments from said depot for the same period 2,039,025 pounds, thus showing the importance of this rapidly-growing locality as abhable note for the fame. growing locality as a shipping point for the A first-class livery stable will be opened

A first-class livery stable will be opened immediately.

Telegraph, postoffice and express offices are already established, and the company intends shortly to erect a number of fine stores, private residences, and also contemplate the erection of a fine bank building. Lots have een set aside for school and church pur poses, park and hotel grounds have been tastefully laid out, and over 20,600 trees planted on the streets of the town. The lots are all good and perfectly level, and the company have placed them on the market at the lowest possible price, in order to enable those buying to realize a handsome

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Officer McGraw yesterday resigned his osition on the police force. The Snook memorial concert has been costponed until Thursday evening, February 16th.

No less than 21 "vags" were brought before Justice Taney yesterday, all of whom were fined in sums varying from $5 to $9.

There was a good deal of excitement in police circles yesterday on account of the various changes that have taken place during the past few days.

Sixteen hundred tons of coal arrived at San Pedro Tuesday from Sydney for the Southern Pacific Company, making 5000 tons now being discharged at that port for the company.

The special committee appointed by the Council to consider the proposed swap of the city hall site have not yet decided on their report. Judge Redick says his proposition will hold good until Friday, when it will be withdrawn.

At a meeting of the directors of the Union Building and Loan Association, held January 30th, the following officers were elected: W. W. Barnes, president; I. Moffatt, vice-president; J. Marchant, secretary; J. S. Chadwick, treasurer, and Thomas S. Shaw, attorney.

Albert Jaramilio was before United States Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday charged with selling liquot to an Indian in San Bernardino county. The evidence was so strongly against the accused that he pleaded guilty to a part of the charge. Commissioner Van Dyke held him to appear before the Grand Jury. Falling to give bond, he was remanded to jail.

Mary Sheffer anneared before Judge.

give bond, he was remanded to jail.

Mary Sheffer appeared before Judge O'Melveny yesterday, praying for a divorce from her husband, Frank Sheffer, on the plea of his desertion. Victor Montgomery and Z. B. West appeared as counsel for the plaintiff. Mrs. Sheffer and her daughter, a young lady about 19 years of age, gave their testimony, and as the husband let the case go by default, the court granted the plea as requested.

Three prisoners were removed from the County Jail last night to the County Hospital. They were Frank Stewart, committed from Pomona, and serving a sentence of 650 days for petit larceny, suffering from pneumonia; John Walsh and a man named Hastle, whose terms expire respectively on Saturday and Sunday. Walsh is in the last stage of consumption, and cannot live long. Hastle is also a very sick man.

The Rose case had been set for hearing in Hastie is also a very sick man.

The Rose case had been set for hearing in Judge Cheney's court yesterday at 1:30, but in consequence of the Moore case occupying the court at that hour it was set for 10 o'clock this morning. A Chinaman named Lee Kin, who is considered to be an important witness, cannot be found, although a subposna had in the first instance been served. An attachment was issued by the Court for his appearance this morning.

C. W. White, who acts in this city as

Court for his appearance this morning.

C. W. White, who acts in this city as ticket agent of the Southern Pacific Company, received word yesterday afternoon that T. S. Graham, collector of the freight department, and the late secretary of the Board of Education, had met with a very serious accident, receiving a scalp wound that extends right across the head. It is not yet known when or how the accident occurred, or whether it is likely to prove fatal.

Two men, who gave their names as H. G. Two men, who gave their names as H. G. McClure and George Long, were yesterday captured by Detectives Lynch and Donahue as they were engaged in the, to them, delightful task of removing a box of .o-bacco from the store of M. A. Newmark & Co., on Marchessault street. All the pleasant visions of free smoking for an unlimited period are at an end, and they will have an opportunity afforded them today of bemoaning their fate before Justice Austin.

J. Davis, who is supposed to have been

J. Davis, who is supposed to have been acting in the capacity of agent for Mrs. Nelson, the alleged "fence" keeper, was yesterday before Justice Taney. It will be remembered that quite a valuable consignant of goods was sent to Davis at San Diego, where he was about to open a branch of the Loe Angeles house. After some title difficulty Davis was arrested and rought back to this city, and yesterday his orning at 10 o'clock.

Yesterday morning C. H. Whittier and Dick Miller were arraigned before Judge Cheney. Whittier, who was standing beside Deputy Sheriff Sanchez, took advantage of a moment when the deputy's head was turned away from him to spring over the chancel rail and attempt to make his escape. Although the courtroom was crowded to its utmost capacity, not a hand was lifted to bar the passage of Whittier, and if the Deputy Sheriff had not been a little quicker than Whittier, he would have certainly made his escape.
